

When disaster strikes your business, CRI can help you develop and implement a quick and restorative financial solution specific to your needs.

BENEFIT FROM SERVICES AND SOLUTIONS THAT ARE:

- Strategic. If you've experienced an unexpected, insured business interruption, CRI will implement a plan to help you ensure that your lost profits and additional expenses are recovered. Our services include developing a claims strategy, analyzing financial data, projecting lost profits, and tabulating recovery costs – plus assisting you in preparing and filing an understandable, credible claim.
- Team-driven. When disaster strikes, it can take all hands on deck to get your business functioning normally again. CRI works closely with your management, legal, and insurance teams to thoroughly analyze your business operations, assess the damages, and develop an effective insurance claim. Our approach is to strive for efficiency while project managing the claims process so that you can focus on running your business.
- Comprehensive. CRI understands the complex process behind preparing and filing business interruption claims, from knowing what data is needed to favorably presenting that data according to your claim coverage. We strive to prepare claim reports that are detailed and methodical, while remaining clear, precise, and defensible in court, if necessary.

Natural disasters and other devastating events can seriously injure a business, putting an indefinite halt to operations and risking its future. If you own a business that has experienced a business interruption, then CRI can help you efficiently recover your losses so you can devote your time to restoring your business.

Business interruptions can occur from such events as natural disasters (hurricanes, tornadoes, floods or fires), waterline or sewer breaks, long-term power outages, and even cyber attacks. No matter what the disaster or how impactful, CRI can help. We provide claims services throughout the process – from compiling data and preparing reports to the formal claim submission process. Specifically, these services include:

- analyzing financials,
- projecting lost revenues and profits,
- accounting for recovery costs incurred,
- securing cash advances, and
- creating detailed claim reports for your insurance company.

Preparing business interruption claims is very detailed, complex, and specialized work requiring a tremendous amount of documentation. Our goal at CRI is to lessen this burden and gain the highest possible recovery for you. We get to work gathering data, analyzing records, and making projections with minimal interruption to your team. You'll benefit from our application of best practices based on our significant experience preparing similar claims.
