Therefore, we add value by listening to our clients and developing customized solutions designed to fulfill their needs and help improve their bottom lines.
- Industry-specific. CRI consults with a variety of practice types – including single specialty and multi-specialty practices, ancillary service providers, and ambulatory surgery centers. Our physician practice clients also range widely in size, from single practitioners to integrated organizations. That means that we understand the complexities inherent to various entity types.
- Consistent. CRI is proud of the high level of partner involvement committed to each engagement. We strive to provide our clients with a dedicated team, allowing management to enjoy the benefits of personal relationships and efficiencies delivered by that stability.

Given the current challenges that physician practices face, it is important for them to partner with a CPA and business advisory firm with the expertise to help them navigate the rapidly changing healthcare environment.
